

Research Center for Emergency Medicine, Aarhus University Hospital

hosts an Afternoon Meeting on

Improving survival from cardiac arrest – state-of-the art simulation and case review methods

December 20, 2018, 15:30 - 17:30

Auditorium A, Aarhus University Hospital (DNU), Entrance G6, G206
Palle Juul Jensens Boulevard 99, 8200 Aarhus N

- 15.30 – 15.35 Introduction
- 15:35 -16-25: State-of-the art simulation, training and feedback methods to improve outcome from cardiac arrest
Elisabeth A. Hunt, MD, MPH, PhD
- 16.25 – 16.45 Break
- 16.45 – 17.30 “Code Busters” – Using novel methods to collect and integrate CPR quality data into reviewing cardiac arrest cases
Jordan Duval-Arnould, DrPH, MPH
- 17.30 Close

Participation is free of charge. Please sign up at:

<https://doodle.com/poll/t8s5uq94dfq7baas> (copy link to internet browser)

Elisabeth A. Hunt, MD, MPH, PhD

Drs. David S. and Marilyn M. Zamierowski Director
Johns Hopkins Medicine Simulation Center
Associate Professor
Departments of Anesthesiology & Critical Care Medicine and Pediatrics
Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine
Chair, Johns Hopkins Pediatric CPR Advisory Committee
Co-Chair, Johns Hopkins CPR Advisory Committee
Senior Co-Chair, INSPIRE (International Network for Simulation-based Innovation, Research and Education)

Biographical sketch: <https://tinyurl.com/yarcba9>

Dr. Jordan Duval-Arnould, DrPH, MPH

Director of Research and Innovation
Johns Hopkins Medicine Simulation Center
Assistant Professor
Department of Anesthesiology and Critical Care Medicine
Division of Health Sciences Informatics
Johns Hopkins Medicine Simulation Center
Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine

Biographical sketch: <https://tinyurl.com/ycoz8eno>

Organizers: Dr. Kristian Krogh, MD, PhD and Prof. Bo Løfgren, MD, PhD

The meeting is generously supported by:

